Jan Beardsall who has retired, after 11 years working for SLSW.

"I'm really enjoying working for Shared Lives," said Stephanie. "I've never worked in this field before and am finding it really interesting. The SLSW staff have been really friendly and welcoming so I feel that I'm already part of the team.

"I am really enjoying learning new things and starting to understand how much Shared Lives helps so many people." Prior to joining Shared Lives South West, she worked as a Commercial and Finance Manager for a Regulatory Affairs Consultancy and lives a short distance from our office at Trewellard Farm, Scorrier.

"I decided I wanted to change my career path and get involved with something more meaningful. When I saw the advert for this position and found out what Shared Lives do, I knew that this was the job for me."

Living in a beautiful part of the world, she takes full advantage of it when out of work.

"I like walking my ex-racing greyhound with my husband," she said.

We approve of Jacky on our panel

Jacky Lockhart from Paignton has joined our Approval Panel. "I saw on a website you were looking for volunteers and thought I'd like to get involved," she said.

When asked what she could offer the Approval Panel, she joked... banana cake, which is her favourite thing to make!

"I have a background working with people with disability and had a sibling with a disability," she said.

She has already sat in on a panel to find out how it all works.

"It was fascinating to see how it all works and it was lovely to meet carers and hear about their lives and hear about the process they go through to be part of Shared Lives."

Our Comms Officer gets married

Congratulations to our Communications Officer Dawn Ellis who has got married. She's been on a trip of a lifetime with her now husband Ryan and son Albie to Florida and the Caribbean. Dawn and Ryan got married on a beach in Grand Turk surrounded by their nearest and dearest. We wish the new Mr and Mrs Gillingwater all the very best for the future.

F&B newbie

Laura Crichton has joined our Funding and Benefits team in the Devon office. Here we find out a little bit about her...

• How are you finding your new role at SLSW?

As with any new role there is a huge amount to get to grips with, it's probably just as well I don't know the scale of it! But it'll come, and everyone is so friendly and helpful. It has been lovely to meet staff at both offices and even to meet some of the fantastic carers.

• Had you heard of SLSW before?

I was aware of SLSW many years ago when it was called SWAPS through a former work colleague. Also in my last job, I was also 'aware' of SLSW as an organisation and its role in providing care services. Since applying, lots of people I know have told me how much they admire the work of the charity and how friendly it is – I am finding that out now from my own experience!

• What were you doing before?

I have mainly worked for charities – both national and local. Many moons ago I was working for a national music and disability organisation, then my experience widened to encompassing benefits advice and health and social care. I have worked for Age UK Information Line, British Red Cross where I set up a Lottery funded project supporting vulnerable people through difficult transitions in their lives, as a Disability Information Officer within Adult Social Services, and for Devon County Council as an Independent Living Adviser in a Direct Payments Team. I've also been a volunteer Cruse bereavement counsellor.

• Out of work what do you enjoy doing/hobbies?

I love nature – and enjoy that in many ways – including our on-going project of creating a wildlife friendly garden. My husband Graham and I are often to be found peering into the pond watching newts, frogs or dragon-fly larvae. We love exploring new places with our dog, Scruff. On a completely different note, I am an avid MotoGP fan, and don't miss a single race on TV throughout the season.

• Where do you live?

I live in Newton Abbot. I moved here from London in 1990, although I'm originally from the South West of Scotland where I lived until I went to University.

Airports info

We've come across the Civil Aviation Authority's study and report on Supporting people with hidden disabilities at UK airports. In 2016 the CAA published guidance for airports on providing assistance for people with hidden disabilities and gave airports a year to make progress in key areas and developed existing services.

One of the main focus points is giving people with hidden disabilities a lanyard to help staff understand they may need their attention or support. Airports have told the CAA that they have enhanced disability awareness training for customer agents and security staff, so that the training focusses on assisting people with both visible and non-visible disabilities. They have also added extra information on the assistance available to their websites and ensured that this is accessible; for example, many airports have produced videos demonstrating the assistance available.

More high profile has been the near universal introduction of optional lanyards or wristbands (or similar discrete identifiers), which are available to be worn by people who may not need one-to-one assistance for the whole passenger journey, but who would like to be able to more easily identify themselves to staff so that they can get extra help at the more stressful touchpoints of the passenger journey, such as security search.

Golden anniversary for Frank and Norma

Long serving carers Frank and Norma have celebrated a milestone wedding anniversary...

After meeting at dancing classes aged 14, Frank and Norma Wortley have been inseparable.

“I went home from the class and said to my Mum that I think I’d met the man I’d like to marry,” said Norma.

The Shared Lives South West carers celebrated 50 years of marriage in June surrounded by their loved ones.

“We hired the Pride of Exmouth to go on a boat trip. We got a casino and all our friends and family dressed in ballgowns and tuxedos,” said

Frank.

“People came from as far as Leeds and London to celebrate with us.

“Dai and Philip who we support also came, they go wherever we go.”

When asked what’s the secret to a happy marriage, Frank replied.

“I always say “Yes”,” he joked. Being carers, they don’t have a lot of time to themselves but when they do, they enjoy walking their dogs, going to shows and building a model railway in their shed.

Buckingham Palace garden party invite Carers Jeff Stagg and Jason Housden enjoyed a day to remember at a Buckingham Palace garden party. They were nominated by Shared Lives South West to attend the glamorous event, which The Queen as well as The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge William and Kate, The Earl and Countess of Wessex Prince Edward and Sophie all attended. "It was incredible, it's hard to find the words to sum it up," said Jason, who lives in north Devon. "As the Royals came out, it was like a game of Top Trumps as we had some of the top ones." Jeff and Jason, who support Robert, Carolyn, Jill and Tracey, dressed in morning suits to mark the occasion. "We took so many photos, it was an amazing experience all round," said Jason.

Carers struck Gold at Care Awards

Carers Joy and Bou Roodenburg were thrilled to take home the Support Living Award at the Outstanding Care Awards for Devon and Cornwall.

The Torpoint based carers won Gold in the category and Torbay carer Karen Kelly Markwick took home Bronze. Karen also placed Silver in the Supported Living Manager of the Year award.

The awards, held at the Riviera Centre, Torquay, received more than 800 nominations.

CEO Dom gets some help from his friends on 200 miles run!

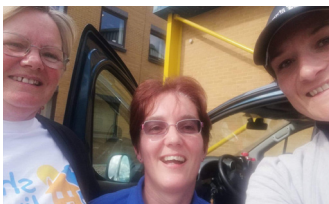

Shared Lives South West CEO Dominic Spayne, with the help of the staff team, has completed a 200 mile run around Devon and Cornwall for Shared Lives Week and has raised more than £1,500 in the process for the charity. The aim of the run was to bring SLSW carers and people who use our services at events across the two counties. The week didn't go as well as planned, with Dominic getting sick on Day 3 and having to stop running. However, the staff team didn't want the challenge to stop, so everyone got on their trainers/walking boots and covered the miles on his behalf. He was back for the final day and in total ran 132.5 miles with the staff team making up the difference. The route took in Barnstaple, Crediton, Dawlish, Newton Abbot, Paignton, Plymouth, St Austell, Scorrier and Penzance.

English exam success for Rachel Rachel Cocker who lives with Ann and Roger Langworthy in Okehampton is celebrating passing Level 1 English after doing a course with Learn Devon. She's now going on to study for Level 2 and started a Maths course too. She's lived with carers Anna and Roger for two years and is enjoying her life. "We've recently been to Perrenporth on holiday and Rachel tried archery. We took the dogs and had a great time," said Ann. Since moving in, Rachel has lost a stone and a half through eating more healthier foods and thanks to the support she's had from her carers is doing more for herself.

"She now does her own bit of shopping and is learning to cook. Her latest thing is making homemade egg mayonaise using eggs from our ducks.

"She has also bought furniture for her bedroom and is saving to go to Spain at Christmas.

"We've done travel training so she now meets with friends on the bus and she's working at the local Devon Air Ambulance shop.

"She's making more choices for herself and is more independent."

Ann couldn't speak highly enough of Rachel.

"She's a treasure and has done so well," said Ann.

"We do the practical things with her and my son helps with the young things and has taken her to the fair and to Crealy.

"She's so much fun to be around and is warm and friendly.

"She really puts a sparkle in my day to day life. I feel with her around I'm growing younger rather than older."

Marie's two stone weight loss goal

Well done to Marie for joining Slimming World and losing over two stone...

Marie, who lives with Shared Lives South West carer Carol Timms, is celebrating losing more than two stone in nine months.

"I joined in October and hit my target weight in May," said Marie proudly.

"I feel good and had to buy new clothes. I'm so pleased I've stuck to it. I feel a lot more confident."

Mum Marie has gone from 12stone 2lb to 10 stone.

"Sometimes Carol takes me to weigh-in but I'm confident to go to Slimming World on my own." said Marie.

"I know more about healthy eating and do my own cooking."

Losing weight isn't the only change in Marie's life.

She's also studying Maths and English and is about to take more exams.

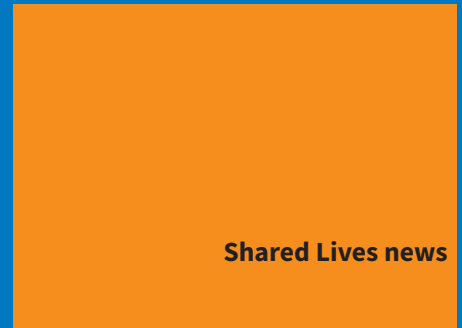

"I'm also learning to drive and have a test booked soon."

Upcycling!

Gavin has been a keen model maker of Airfix for many years. His main interests were building planes. Recently, he has been trying to save more money and as the kits are expensive he decided to be more creative and build his own 'kits' out of recycling materials. He has made replicas of buildings and made them as presents for friends. He made Donna, his carer, the scene from The Great Escape! He's currently working on a replica of the interior of the charity shop he volunteers in. He's hoping he'll finish it in a couple of weeks to give to the manager as a present as a thank you for all the support she's given him over the last three years. Gavin's models are amazing and the detail he's put in is brilliant! We're hoping this will inspire other people to be creative on a budget using just recycling, paint and a glue gun!
